NOCTURNAL PROWLER.

Breaks Into a House but Retreats Without Taking Anything.

A. Anaxter, the watchmaker, who lives on Likelike street, had his house broken into last night. The burglar got inside by opening a shutter and crawling through a window that had been left open. Mr. Anaxter's daughter was sleeping in the room at the time. Hearing a noise she asked what was wanted, thinking that it was some member of the family. Receiving no reply she looked around and saw a light complexioned man pulling his hat down over his eyes. He had a handkerchief or piece of cloth in his hand. The girl called lustily for her father. In the meantime the robber retreated through the window. Mr. Anaxter followed for some distance, but was unable to overtake the marauder. Miss Anaxter is sure that it was a white man, very short and slim. The father reported the matter to the police today.

W. W. DIMOND'S

The opening of our store in the von Holt block on King street on the 15th instant will be the event of the year in business circles. It will be more than the opening of a new store, it will be the beginning of an era of new methods of business in Honolulu.

Customers will have all the advantages and conveniences to be found in the palatial stores of the United States, but at less expense. Our prices are low, lower than the average cheap John asks for inferior goods. We are reaching out for trade, and to get it, we offer articles of premier quality at prices usually charged for seconds. You never heard of that in Honolulu before, did you?

Our store, to you, will be the realization of a dream. The latest conceits in fittings, reproductions of those in the large stores in the States, are used in ours. All the conveniences of a modern store will be found with us and it costs you no more to buy from us than in older and less beautifully fitted establishments.

Our stock will comprise Crockery; Glassware of every description; Filters; Lamps; Cutlery; Platedware; Woodenware; Refrigerators; Hardware; Agateware; Tinware; Stoves and Ranges and a large assortment of the latest novelties in household utensils. This stock is as complete as money and experience can make it. It is not a collection of second class articles, selected with a view to catching your trade through the medium of low prices, but of first class goods at low prices.

The secret of our ability to do this is in the buying. Every advantage was taken in the way of discounts and you get the benefit of them.

Goods delivered free to all parts of the city, including Waikiki, every day.
